Commercial Waste Duty of Care

Are you disposing of yours legally?

If you operate any form of business, you have a legal responsibility under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 and other related legislation to safely contain and legally dispose of any waste produced from your business.

If you don’t, you can be taken to court as you are committing offences. Please note that your business rates do not include the cost of your business waste disposal.

The law also applies to anyone working from home such as garden clearances, packing, delivering, crèche or child minding, small businesses, offices, hairdressers, sun bed shops, second hand shops to name but a few. In fact it applies to all rubbish generated by anyone although there are a few exceptions for householders disposing of their own household waste (not anyone else’s).

Examples of waste: Anything whatsoever that is no longer required such as old mail, cleaning products, food eaten on your premises, cardboard, plastics, sweepings, damaged goods that cannot be returned, etc.

This waste is known as commercial waste or business waste. The real name is ‘Controlled Waste’.

Disposal of waste—two options:

Option 1—dispose of your own waste

You must be able to provide documents called ‘Waste Transfer Notes’ or provide some form of receipts showing:-

• Where you disposed of the waste (tip location)
• How much of it there was (weight)
• And when it was tipped (date) and what waste was tipped (type)
• You may be able to take it to one of the Council’s Transfer Stations however; you are advised to contact them prior to visit to set up an account. You will be charged.

Or
• Privately run waste sites that can be found in the Yellow Pages

Option 2—have someone else collect and dispose of it for you

• They must be ‘licensed waste carriers’
• You must have filled in a form commonly known as a ‘Duty of Care’ with your chosen contractor.

You can check with the Environment Agency that your contractor is licensed. Alternatively you can contact Newark and Sherwood Council to arrange a Trade Waste Agreement.

You are committing offences and can be prosecuted if you give your waste to anyone who is not licensed to carry and dispose of controlled waste.

Does the ‘Duty of Care’ apply to me?

It applies to anyone who produces, stores, transports, treats and disposes of waste.

‘But my business does not produce any waste’

This is highly unlikely as trade waste includes:

• Post you get
• Food your staff eat or drink on the business premises
• Damaged or scrapped items
• Floor sweepings
• Cleaning materials
• General waste that cannot be recycled
• Litter bin

This is also classed as business or commercial waste and it is an offence to take it home and place it in your domestic bin, or take it to a household waste recycling centre or to dispose of it any other way except in accordance with the Duty of Care.

You will have to prove to the courts that you do not produce any waste whatsoever. You can recycle a lot of commercial waste but it still needs to be legally documented with your chosen contractor.

What do I need to do?

Make sure any waste you produce is safely stored in a suitable container. If waste is put in a bin or a skip, it needs to be closed and covered so the waste cannot escape or be interfered with. If it is put in your chosen contractor’s trade bags, keep them contained and do not put them out until the time of your collection. Bags put out at the wrong time are a major problem in Newark and Sherwood.

Whoever collects your waste, make sure they have the authority to do so. They must be registered with the Environment Agency.

If it’s a one off or non-regular collection, a waste transfer note must be completed. If you have a regular waste contract collection, this will normally be found on the contract you signed with your chosen waste collector. Also known as a ‘Duty of Care Note’.

If you dispose of your own waste, you must pay for the disposal and keep all your receipts and tipping notes for at least two years.

Penalties

If you are found to be disposing of your waste illegally you will be prosecuted. The maximum penalty is a fine of £50,000 and up to 12 months imprisonment in the Magistrates Court, 5 years imprisonment and unlimited fine at the Crown Court.

Please note: If your business is involved in human/animal health care or related research the types of waste you produce are clinical waste and needs to be disposed of differently. Please call Newark & Sherwood Waste Management on 01636 655600 for details.

Most Important

When someone finds YOUR waste fly tipped—can you prove that YOU haven’t dumped it there and that you have complied with all the requirements detailed above? If you can’t, YOU may be liable to a fine up to £50,000 and up to 5 years imprisonment. Failure to produce authority (waste transfer notes) can result in a Fixed Penalty Notice of £300.00

We are here to help prevent you committing offences

The main misconception is that once the trade waste has been put out by a business in either bags or bins, as far as some are concerned, the waste is no longer their problem.

This is completely incorrect and all producers of waste have a legal responsibility and duty for their waste until it is collected by a legal waste carrier. Often bin lids are left wide open or unlocked, bins or bags are damaged, and waste is left on the floor because the contractor failed to collect it.

This is still your waste and you are liable for it. You must (by law) prevent the escape of waste by either yourselves or someone going through your waste, which is a common problem. You must ensure your bin is secured at all times.

You must ensure you have the sufficient number of collections by your contractor to remove all of your waste and avoid it spilling out or to avoid your bin being overfilled.

Bagged Waste – Prepaid trade waste labels/bags

Prepaid waste labels can be purchased for excess waste. Please contact Trade Waste Officer on 01636 655572.
Trade Waste Bins

If your contractor fails to collect your waste within a reasonable period of time (no more than a few hours), you cannot leave it on the street and you must take it back inside your premises.

If you have trade waste bins and your contractor has not emptied your bin, contact them at once to attend as a matter of urgency. Do not under any circumstances continue to over fill the bin so that the lid cannot be locked or even worse, place waste at the side of the bin or in other peoples bins.

“It was our cleaners or a new member of staff who didn’t know” !!!

This type of excuse is often used but in reality, it is the owners, occupiers and managers who have a legal duty for anyone they employ to ensure they know what to do with their waste. It certainly won’t be the cleaner going to court.

Most offences are caused by the businesses’ own staff or contractors failing in their duties. This could be as simple as your staff not knowing the basic rules and procedures. Make sure your staff are fully trained on waste disposal and waste management. If they deal with waste, they should know what to do with it and where it goes.

“We share a yard or our rubbish was ok when we put it out” !!!

You are still responsible for your own waste at all times and you must keep it tidy and secure.

Check your waste regularly. Keep a look out especially for those people that make money from re-selling the contents of your bin or that may be looking for private and useful information.

Don’t ignore that bin with the damaged wheel, the burnt out lid or the one with the lock missing. Keep your bin and your bin area clean. Put this on a staff rota for someone to check daily.
